GLRC Needs Your Help and Support

By Linda Davenport
President of GLRC Board of Directors

On July 13th, the GLRC Board of Directors held its monthly meeting to discuss the future of the Center. Some of the discussion centered on whether to close the present location or remain open. After discussing the purpose of the center, which is to provide an information and referral center for the mutual support of gays, lesbians, bisexuals, transgendered persons, their families, friends, allies and the community at large, we were all in agreement that the GLRC should remain open for those who may need the Center. In the discussion, it was brought to our attention that there were a number of members of the LGBT community who do not know that the Center even exists. In an effort to reach these people, we are asking for your help by telling your friends about the GLRC and inviting them to events that are sponsored by the GLRC. This is a way that the community can spread the word about the Center and the best form of advertisement that we could ask for.

The Board feels that it is important for the Center to keep offering Drop-In nights, woman's chat support group, and other educational programs for the LGBT community. The Center and its volunteers have been very instrumental for several persons when they were "coming out" and had serious questions that needed to be answered. With the help of our extensive library and personal experiences of the Center's volunteers, those questions were answered.

During the discussion, it was recommended that the Center relocate. The Board of Directors agreed that the present location might be the reason for the poor attendance. Some board and community members have expressed the difficulty in finding parking available especially when the Paramount has an event on the same evening as the Center. A search for a new location will begin immediately.

As the discussion continued, the board discussed the possibilities of more fundraising events to help with the operating costs. At the present time, we have the Pride Picnic that was held at the time this was being printed and on September 14th, there will be a Charity Golf Tournament held at Mount Vernon Country Club to benefit the GLRC. Watch the Resource Line for more events that will be planned.

Financially, we need your help! Currently, we

Iowa Women's Music Festival 10th Anniversary

The all-volunteer group of women that organizes the Iowa Women's Music Festival every September is especially working hard to plan the 2003 festivities in honor of the 10th anniversary of this grassroots event.

Iowa Women's Music Festival is set for Saturday, September 13, 2003, and will run from noon until 5 p.m. in Upper City Park in Iowa City. The festival is free to attend and is open to all! Food will be available for sale, and vendor booths will surround the festival with crafts, art, and other merchandise. For more information, to volunteer, or to be a vendor at the 2003 IWMF, contact Laurie at the Women's Resource and Action Center at 319-335-1486.

Sponsorships and donations are also greatly appreciated and will help the non-profit Prairie Voices Productions put on a banner 10th-year festival. Donations in any amount can be mailed on a tax-deductible basis to Prairie Voices Productions, Iowa Women's Music Festival, PO BOX 3411, IOWA CITY, IA 52244.

Wishing Chair

Featured performers include Kentucky-based Wishing Chair, the female duo of Kiya Heartwood and Miriam Davidson who were invited back by popular demand after bringing the crowd to a standing ovation at the IWMF fundraiser at CSPA on April 5. Multi-instrumentalist Kara Barnard, from Indiana, will join Wishing Chair onstage. Both Wishing Chair and Kara Barnard are popular Mainstage performers at National Women's Music Festival and at other major festivals around the country.

Provincetown mainstay Zoë Lewis will also be featured at the 10th Anniversary IWMF. This energetic singer-songwriter is so multi-instrumental that critics around the world tout her as a "band in a body" - masterful on the keyboard, ukulele, guitar, harmonica, and odd instruments such as the spoons, the kazoo, and even her own body as a percussive instrument.

This year's IWMF also features some new faces, such as Irene

Keenan, Jr., who will be traveling with her up-beat rock band from Wisconsin, as well as four emerging young women musicians from area colleges and universities, as part of the festival's new "college hour." Local favorites Amy Finders (of the Mike and Amy Finders Band) and Annie Savage (of the Johnson Co. Mayflies) will form a rare female duo, and Patty Ankrum (formerly of Black Sheep) will present her solo music backed by Dale Beeks on guitar.

Coinciding with the festival, Prairie Voices Productions will present popular national comedian Suzanne Westenhoefer, Friday, September 12, at 8 p.m. in McBride Auditorium on the campus of the University of Iowa. Tickets for the comedy show will be sold on a sliding scale basis to help make it possible for lower-income individuals to attend. For more information, call WRAC at 319-335-1486.

HALCYON to Debut in Iowa

Tampa, Florida's popular female acoustic duo

HALCYON, the female folk/rock duo of Deborah Hunseder and Stephanie Callahan from Tampa, Florida, are no strangers to life in the indie music world – the constant touring, out-of-the-box marketing, fan-base building – and the do-it-yourself mode of it all.

In fact, they've been doing it well for themselves for a long time. Deb and Steph have been playing together successfully for nearly 14 years, since 1989, when they met at a softball tournament in Clearwater, Florida, and ended up playing the night away at a pool party afterwards.

The descriptions of Deb and Steph are not far off the description of the simple but interesting girl next door...but one with two very different personalities. "Deb is a fun-loving, optimistic pop songwriter that would rather be on a boat, hates to wear shoes, and sometimes brews her own beer. Stephanie is a serious, anal, neat freak jock, and recovering Southern Baptist (that explains her love for heavy metal music and the nose ring). She tends to write songs that fringe on the darker, sometimes political side." Together, the two are perfectly balanced in their songwriting, stage presence, and harmonies, and what results is a strength, energy, and confidence that shows forth in their performance.

Halcyon has worked with such artists as India.Arie, John Mayer, Crosby, Stills and Nash, Joan Baez, Al Jarreau, Joan Osborne, blues legend KoKo Taylor, Patty Larkin, Lisa Loeb, Little Feat, Sister Hazel, Cheryl Wheeler, and members of Matchbox 20.

Halcyon has recorded 5 CDs of original music, including their recent double live CD "Plugged, Stripped Down, and Live!" This duo is so popular in Florida that they have been known to turn out a crowd of 700 for their shows. Come out to their first-ever Iowa concerts to see why!

First Friday Breakfast Club in the Corridor

The First Friday Breakfast Club in the Corridor (FFBC2) is an educational and networking group for gay men who gather on the first Friday of every month to provide mutual support, be educated on current affairs, and to provide the community with a positive image of gay men.

Our primary purpose is to work towards the elimination of prejudice and discrimination against all people based on their disclosed or perceived sexual orientation.

We are pleased to announce speakers for the first two meetings.

On Friday, August 1, Brad Clark of Des Moines will speak to the club about his experiences at Central College in Pella and about PrideNet: Iowa.

As featured in the December 10, 2002 issue of the Advocate, Central College student body president Brad Clark came out of the closet, and was subsequently forced out of a leadership position with the InterVarsity Christian Fellowship - a nondenominational religious club.

This issue created an opportunity for Brad and others to open doors and open minds on colleges and universities across the country. Since that time, Brad has placed his plans of law school on hold to assist with PrideNet: Iowa - a statewide resource for Iowa gays, lesbians, bisexuals, and transgender persons; specifically networking and providing resources and leadership to Gay/Straight Alliance's in high schools and LGBT groups on college campuses.

And on Friday, September 5, 2003, Des Moines lawyer and FFBC founder, Jonathan Wilson will be the featured speaker. Jonathan has been a leader in his community and will provide his insight into the creation of FFBC.

The FFBC2 meets at the Clarion

Hotel & Convention Center, 525 33rd Avenue SW, Cedar Rapids. Join us for breakfast and see what everyone is talking about! $12/person, includes breakfast.

Co-Owner- Club Basix-Cedar Rapids

"Came-out" - 30 or so years ago!

Canine daughter Sassy;

Question: It has been brought to my attention that on August 1, you will become the sole owner of Club Basix?

Answer: That is true. Terry Stevenson, my business partner and friend, has agreed to allow me to buy-out his interest in Club Basix. As time evolves, our lives, situations, and goals change: Terry and I agree that now is an appropriate time for this change to take place. I have sincerely enjoyed his and my business relationship over the last three years. Terry has put forth great effort toward the betterment of our community. I have the utmost respect for him, and wish my friend well in all his future endeavors.

Question: Since you will become the sole owner, do you have any changes in procedure or location planned?

Answer: Well, Brian, being in business yourself, you certainly realize that we all have visions and long-term goals for our re- spective businesses. I would never rule out expanding or relocating the Club Basix to a larger venue. Many times, we anticipate changes we might make to achieve our goals, and I of course, have a vision of where I would like the see Club Basix evolve in the future.

Question: What are the down sides to running a bar?

Answer: Of course, the long hours required due to the nature of the bar business is a down side. I believe that a bar owner needs to devote a significant amount of time in the bar during (and outside of) business hours, not only to maintain control of your business, but also to understand the wants and needs of that business --- and in turn, the needs of your community. A second down side to bar ownership is having to make business decisions that, while necessary, are sometimes unpopular.

Question: What are the benefits of running a bar?

Answer: As an owner, it is very satisfying when the night runs smoothly, when everyone gets along, and the bar "drama" is minimum. I have met so many friends in the bar, and have seen many of my friends meet and establish lasting relationships: these are the types of things that make owning a bar worthwhile. I believe that every member of our GLBT community should do for our community that which we are in a position to do -- whether that means serving on a committee, volunteering for RAP, hosting a chili supper fundraiser, or managing and providing a Community Bar.

Question: Do you think a club like Club Basix plays an integral part in a Gay and Lesbian Community?

Answer: Historically, a gay/lesbian bar has been extremely important to the GLBT community.

Although it is much easier for a person to "come out" in society today, we all know it has not always been that way. Gay and Lesbian bars were sometimes the only place we could find each other, find unity and support, and an atmosphere where we could be ourselves, relax with friends, and potentially find that special person with whom to share our lives. Today, a bar continues to be important to the GLBT community in very much the same way. Much of our community is still oppressed; some within our community are ostracized from family, co-workers and friends. A gay/lesbian bar serves not only as a community meeting center, but in many respects, it serves as a second family as well.

\**The whole reason for beginning the Community Spotlight column is to allow you, the public to gain knowledge of people or persons in the Gay and Lesbian Community which you may need to know, or like to know, as you live your daily lives as a proud member of the Cedar Rapids*

CDC Reports HIV and AIDS Cases Up for First Time in Decade

New HIV and AIDS cases in the United States rose for the first time since 1993, according to data presented by U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) officials at the 10th Conference on Retroviruses and Opportunistic Infections in February 2003. In the 25 states with mandatory HIV testing, HIV diagnoses increased 8 percent overall between 1999 and 2001, with a 14 percent jump among men who have sex with men (MSM) and a 10 percent rise in heterosexual transmission. The number of diagnosed AIDS cases also rose, although only by 1 percent.

"It is still too early to know if this represents a reversal of previous AIDS trends," said Dr. Ronald Valdiserri, deputy director of the CDC's National Center for HIV, STD and TB Prevention (USA Today, 2/12/03). "we don't want to be alarmist, but now is the time to address this. We don't want to wait two or three years."

Understanding the Statistics

Dr. Valdiserri attributed the increase in HIV/AIDS cases to a sense of complacency bred by the misconception that the disease no longer poses a serious health threat. He noted that many people are not getting tested for HIV.

In fact, the CDC estimates that close to 300,000 Americans do not know they are HIV-infected and may be transmitting the virus to other through unprotected sex and other high-risk behavior.

Because the human immunodeficiency virus has an unusually long incubation period, many Americans carry the virus for ten years—the typical elapsed time between HIV infection and the onset of AIDS—before experiencing symptoms and getting tested. In fact, new CDC data released at the Retroviruses Conference showed that the vast majority of men and women newly diagnosed with HIV between 1999 and 2001 were tested only when they began to feel ill. Of course, until they are diagnosed, many infected individuals continue to look and feel healthy and to lead normal lives. In addition to missing out on years of potentially life-prolonging treatment, they may unwittingly be engaging in activities that can transmit the virus to others.

Prevention Strategies

Many U.S. health officials have begun to worry that the country may be headed for a resurgence in HIV/AIDS cases. Early testing and diagnosis can play an essential role in slowing the epidemic's spread, especially since studies show that individuals who know they are HIV-positive are less likely to engage in behaviors that might put others at risk of infection.

Currently, as many as one-third of the 2.1 million Americans tested for HIV each year at public clinics fail to return to learn their test results. In an effort to help more people learn their HIV status and reduce new infections, U.S. health officials have urged wider use of newly-approved rapid HIV test. In November 2002, the FDA approved the OraQuick Rapid HIV-1 Antibody test, which requires only a drop of blood and can reveal HIV status in just 20 minutes. In February 2003, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services approved a waiver that will permit the test's use in more than 100,000 doctors' offices and public health clinics nationwide. At the Retroviruses Conference, Dr. Valdiserri recommended that the new test be part of routine health care for all those at risk of HIV infection.
